

Quick Reference Guide

Chapter 1 Motivation, Engagement, Interests, and Attitudes 1

- 1.1 The student can read but chooses not to read. 3
- 1.2 The student does not like to read or exhibits a negative attitude toward reading. 20
- 1.3 The student does not find much of interest to read. 38
- 1.4 The student has a low level of confidence in his or her reading ability. 51
- 1.5 The student does not set reading goals. 62

Chapter 2 Oral Language, Phonemic Awareness, and Beginning Reading 95

- 2.1 The student has limited oral expression. 98
- 2.2 The student is unaware of the basic functions of print. 103
- 2.3 The student does not know the letters of the alphabet. 106
- 2.4 The student has difficulty distinguishing fine differences in the sounds of spoken words. 116
- 2.5 The student does not seem to understand what words are. 122
- 2.6 The student does not understand the concept of rhyming. 126
- 2.7 The student is unable to segment words into syllables and blend syllables into words. 132
- 2.8 The student lacks knowledge of sounds associated with letters of the alphabet. 136
- 2.9 The student is unable to segment, blend, and manipulate onsets and rimes. 141
- 2.10 The student is unable to segment, blend, and manipulate phonemes. 147
- 2.11 The student has trouble visually discriminating differences among letters and words. 164
- 2.12 The student reverses letters or words. 168
- 2.13 The student does not understand the parts of a story and may be unable to retell story events successfully. 172

Chapter 3 Phonics, Decoding, and Word Identification 181

- 3.1 The student has difficulty associating the sounds that consonants symbolize. 183
- 3.2 The student has difficulty associating the sounds that vowels symbolize. 192
- 3.3 The student is unable to use knowledge about word patterns to identify unfamiliar words. 197
- 3.4 The student is unable to use word structure to help decode unfamiliar words. 201
- 3.5 The student cannot identify basic sight (high-frequency) words automatically. 215
- 3.6 The student's sight vocabulary is so limited that it interferes with reading fluency. 223
- 3.7 The student has difficulty using context clues to anticipate a familiar word. 228
- 3.8 The student is unable to use the dictionary to help pronounce unknown words. 232
- 3.9 The student does not use a variety of word-identification strategies. 243
- 3.10 The student knows word-identification strategies but does not use them effectively. 247

Chapter 4 Fluency and Effective Oral Reading 281

- 4.1 The student's oral reading lacks fluency. 284
- 4.2 The student uses poor or inappropriate phrasing. 289
- 4.3 The student ignores punctuation, adds punctuation, or uses inappropriate intonation. 291
- 4.4 The student repeats words, phrases, or sentences. 294
- 4.5 The student's oral reading lacks expression. 296

- 4.6 The student is concerned primarily with speed and accuracy when reading. 299
- 4.7 The student waits to be told unknown words and does not attempt them independently. 302
- 4.8 The student substitutes a word or words, and the text does not make sense. 305
- 4.9 The student substitutes a word or words, and the phrase or sentence still makes sense. 308
- 4.10 The student produces a nonword instead of a real word. 310
- 4.11 The student omits one or more words, and the text does not make sense or distorts the author's intended meaning. 312
- 4.12 The student omits one or more words, and the text still makes sense. 314
- 4.13 The student habitually tries to sound out words when confronted with an unknown word in text. 315
- 4.14 The student overrelies on experience and context while reading. 317

Chapter 5 Vocabulary Development and Extension 337

- 5.1 The student's knowledge of word meanings is limited. 340
- 5.2 The student is unable to use a word's connotation to select the right meaning for the context. 354
- 5.3 The student does not use new vocabulary words in speaking and writing. 365
- 5.4 The student has difficulty using context clues to predict meanings of unknown words. 371
- 5.5 The student does not use knowledge about word parts to help determine meanings of unknown words. 379
- 5.6 The student does not use a dictionary to help determine, verify, or clarify the meanings of words in context. 388
- 5.7 The student lacks an interest in words. 397

Chapter 6 Comprehension Skills 417

- 6.1 The student does not preview text material before reading. 419
- 6.2 The student does not activate prior knowledge before reading. 423
- 6.3 The student appears to approach reading tasks without purposes or goals. 433
- 6.4 The student has difficulty understanding the main point of a reading selection. 437
- 6.5 The student has difficulty recalling important facts or details from a passage. 449
- 6.6 The student has difficulty sequencing events. 453
- 6.7 The student has difficulty predicting outcomes while reading. 462
- 6.8 The student has difficulty making inferences during reading. 469
- 6.9 The student does not visualize while reading. 481
- 6.10 The student has difficulty drawing conclusions after reading. 489

Chapter 7 Comprehension Strategies 501

- 7.1 The student does not understand how fictional texts are organized. 503
- 7.2 The student does not understand how informational texts are organized. 511
- 7.3 The student has difficulty interpreting charts and graphs. 522
- 7.4 The student does not vary rate of reading. 528
- 7.5 The student does not monitor comprehension. 534
- 7.6 The student has difficulty summarizing ideas during and after reading. 544
- 7.7 The student does not make connections while reading. 553
- 7.8 The student does not process text after reading. 561
- 7.9 The student has difficulty evaluating written materials. 567
- 7.10 The student has difficulty remembering what was read. 577