CONTEMPORARY COMMUNICATION THEORY

CONTENTS 3/9/09

Part I – Theory Building in Communication

Chapter 1 – Introduction to Studying Communication

- Issues in Understanding Communication
 - Basic Components and Concepts
 - Defining Communication
 - Characteristics of Communication
- Points of Controversy about Communication
 - Communication and Intent
 - Communication as Planned Behavior
 - Transactional Nature of Communication
 - The Functions of Communication
- The Importance of Communication
 - Creating Cooperation
 - Acquiring Information
 - Forming Self-Concept
 - Communication as Entertainment
 - In the Evolution of Ideas
- The Interdisciplinary Approach to Communication
- Summary
- Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 2 – Perspectives on Communication Theory

- The Scientific Method
 - Theory Building through Deductive and Inductive Approaches
 - Identifying Variable to be Investigated
 - Development of Hypothesis
 - Conduct an Empirical Investigation
 - Compare Results to the Original Hypothesis
 - Assess Theoretical Significance of the Findings and Identify Threats to Validity
- Constitutions of Quality Communication Theory
- Communication Theory Development
- Fundamental Functions and Goals of Communication Theory
 - Fundamental Goals of Theory
 - How Many Theories are Enough?
- Metatheoretical Contributions to Communication Theory
 - Seven Theoretical Traditions
- Summary

Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 3 – The Development of Approaches to Communication

The Rhetorical Tradition in the Development of Communication Theory

Basic Rhetorical Concepts

Inventio/Invention

Disposition/Arrangement

Elocutio/Style

Pronuntiatio/Delivery

Memoria/Memory

Descriptive Models of Communication

The Schramm Model of Communication

Berlo's SMCR Model of Communication

The McCroskey Model of Communication

The Ruesch and Bateson Model of Communication

The Westley-MacLean Model of Communication

Major Approaches in the Development of Contemporary Communication Theory

Yale Studies on Communication

An Information Approach to Communication

Berlo's Process Approach to Communication

Style-Specific or Special Communication Theories

General Theories of Communication

Cognitive Dissonance

Symbolic Convergence

Burke's Theory of Dramatism

Contextual Approaches to Communication

Summary

Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 4 – Paradigms and Communication Theory

Paradigms and Communication Theory

The Covering Laws Perspective

Positivistic versus Probabilistic Conception of Laws

Discovering Certain "Laws" of Communication

"Tools" of the Law-Governed Communication Researcher

Strengths of the Laws Perspective

Weaknesses of the Laws Perspective

The Communibiological Perspective

Strengths of the Communibiological Perspective

Weaknesses of the Communibiological Perspective

The Rules Perspective

Strengths of the Rules Perspective

Weaknesses of the Rules Perspective

The Systems Perspective

Strengths of the Systems Perspective

Weaknesses of the Systems Perspective

Part II – Theory Building in Major Approaches to Communication

Chapter 5 – Trait Approaches

Contexts, Traits, and States
The Cross-Situational Consistency Framework
 Apprehension Traits
 Presentation Traits
 Adaptation Traits
 Aggression Traits
Summary

Chapter 6 – Persuasion Approaches

Conceptualizing Persuasion
Six Dimensions of Persuasion Situations
Self-Awareness and Persuasion
Approaches to Understanding Persuasion
 The Variable-Analytic Approach
 Personality Traits and Persuasion
 Research on Message Variables
 The Source Credibility Approach
 Cognitive Dissonance Theory
 Ego-Involvement, or Social Judgment Theory
 The Theory of Reasoned Action
 The Theory of Planned Behavior
 Elaboration Likelihood Theory
 Compliance-Gaining Message Selection
 Preventing Persuasion
Summary
Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 7 – Verbal Behavior Approaches

Signs, Symbols, and Signals
Language and Meaning
Language and Perception
 Theory of Linguistic Relativity
 Question Phrasing
Language and Power
 Communicating Power and Status
 Sex, Gender, and Power: Differences in Verbal Behavior
 Language Intensity and Opinionation
Theoretical Approaches to Verbal Behavior
 Communication Accommodation Theory
 Language Expectancy Theory

The Conversation and Discourse Analytic Perspectives
Conversation Analysis Theory

Summary

Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 8 – Nonverbal Behavior Approaches

Affective-Cognitive Dimensions of Communication

Contextual Nature of Nonverbal Communication

Nonverbal Behavior and Intentionality

Nonverbal Communication Abilities

Functions of Nonverbal Communication

Sending Uncomfortable Messages

Regulating Interaction

Influencing People

Reinforcing and Modifying Verbal Messages

Expectancy Violations Theory

Interaction Adaptation Theory

Nonverbal Immediacy and Cognitive Valence Theory

An Extension of Nonverbal Immediacy—Cognitive Valence Theory

Interpersonal Deception Theory

Summary

Key Terms/Concepts

Part III – Theory Building in Communication Contexts

Chapter 9 – Interpersonal Contexts

Uncertainty Reduction Theory

Three Stages of Initial Interactions

Uncertainty Reduction Axioms

Uncertainty Reduction Theorems

Moving Beyond Initial Interaction Stages

Strategies to Reduce Uncertainty

A Test of Uncertainty Reduction Theory

Predicted Outcome Value Theory

Attraction Theories and Relational Development

The Interpersonal Goal-Oriented Theory of Attraction

Reinforcement Theory and Attraction

Similarity and Interpersonal Attraction

Evaluating the Attraction-Reinforcement Research

Relationship Interaction Stages Model

The Theory of Interpersonal Communication Motives

Two Rules-Based/Human Action General Theories of Communication

Constructivism

Coordinated Management of Meaning

A Systems Model of Relational Interaction

Summary
Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 10 – Group Contexts

Nature of Groups
Group Size
Types of Groups
Leadership
Roles
Conflict
Conformity
Functional Theory of Group Decision Quality
Theory of Groupthink
Multiple Sequence Model of Group Decisions
Summary
Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 11 – Contemporary Communication Theory in Organizations

Classical Management Perspectives
Scientific Management Theory
Bureaucracy Management Theory
Effective Management Theory
Human Relations Management Perspectives
Human Resource Management Perspective
System 4 Management Theory
X,Y Management Theory
Theory Z of Management
Model I and Model II Theory
Managerial Grid Theory
Theory of Independent Mindedness
Theories of Organizational Leadership
Trait Approach to Leadership
Situational Approach to Leadership
Exchange Approaches to Leadership
Worker Motivational Theories
Hierarchy of Needs Theory
Motivator Hygiene Theory
Acquired Needs Theory
Organizational Socialization
Model of Organizational Assimilation
Organizational Information Processing
Information Systems Theory
Organizational Ethical Perspectives and Theories
Practices of Ethical Organizations
Summary
Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 12 – Mass Media Contexts

- Mass Communication in Contemporary Society
- Early Theory-Building Efforts in Mass Communication
 - The “Magic Bullet” Theory
 - The Two-Step Flow Theory
 - Diffusion Theory
- The Functional Approach to Mass Communication Theory
- Agenda-Setting Theory and Mass Communication
- Mass Communication and Parasocial Interaction
 - Influences of Interpersonal Communication Theory
 - Measuring Parasocial Interaction
- Uses and Gratifications Theory
 - Objectives of the Theory
 - Examples of Uses and Gratifications Research
 - Criticisms of the Theory
- Cultivation Theory
 - The Interaction of Media and Reality
 - Heavy versus Light Television Viewers
 - Refinement of Cultivation Theory
 - Criticisms of the Theory
- The Spiral of Silence Theory
- Media Dependence Theory
- Theories of Mediated Interpersonal Communication
 - Social Information Processing Theory
- Summary
- Key Terms/Concepts

Chapter 13 – Communication Theory in Tributary Contexts

- Family Communication
 - Conceptualizations of the Family
 - Characteristics of the Family Communication Context
 - Families as Systems
 - Fitzpatrick’s Typology of Couple Types
 - Communication Privacy Management Theory
 - The Argumentative Skill Deficiency Model of Intrafamily Violence
- Health Communication
 - Functions of Communication in the Health Context
 - Communication Contexts within Health Communication
 - The Systems Perspective
 - The Health Belief Model
 - Uncertainty Management Theory
- Intercultural Communication
 - Anxiety/Uncertainty Management Theory
 - Face Negotiation Theory

Political Communication

Symbolic Convergence Theory and Political Communication

Agenda-Setting Theory in Political Communication

A Constructivist View of Political Communication
